
Deaths are attributed by department and municipality of residence, consistent with the live-birth denominator. Surveillance notifications are counted under a different case definition and are reported for comparison of totals only. Sources: national vital statistics and national surveillance microdata.